Tapping or draining of fluid from the body for relief of dropsy, is a more or less common pracoff its fluid confents, is an operation seldom successful restoration of sight, a most practiced hand, experienced skill and judgment. Miss Dicy Walson living at 2,564 South Fifth street, this city, for years a sofferer from intractable alceration and billametion of the left eye, had to have this delicate operation performed twice during one week to save her sight. The openlions were done by Dr. W. C. Bothier, the conon writes: "My eye had been discused for ever for my pain and suffering. I had been treated twice at Marci go, lown, but relapsed each time and got worse. While being treated in November by Dr. Roteler here, he told me this operation must be done. The ductor opened by eye Charles Weight George Scheede, W. A. Browndag, Jos. Phory, Albert McIntyre, B. F. Morgat, T. S. Blatchley, Davis Combs, William Forney, I could not recover. He then treated the eye properly with medicine and I am now entirely well. The disease disappeared, the eye waters reformed, leaving only a slight scar where the
